PERFORMING ARTS CENTRE SEEKS TO ASSEMBLE CRACKERJACK TEAM

We're looking for volunteers

The Performing Arts Centre located at the University of Alberta's Augustana Campus is nearing completion and the Volunteer Company will be holding an Open House on Wednesday, May 21, 2014 between 3:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m at Augustana's Faith and Life Lounge.

This is a great opportunity for anyone interested in supporting the growth of arts and culture in Camrose to come and find out what the new facility has to offer

General Manager Kerry Rajotte says "We want to put together a team of volunteers who are as attracted to supporting this community as they are in live performing arts. This team will be the frontline when visitors come to the facility." Rajotte goes on to say, "Ticket buyers will always remember how they were welcomed and the kind of service they received so we have set ourselves a high standard where customer service is concerned".

And there is lots of opportunity available for anyone who is interested in highlighting skills, learning new skills or just being a part of the action. Volunteer Coordinator Stacey Beach says "We understand this is a situation which must be beneficial to both parties; Volunteers get the chance to support their interest in the performing arts and this new facility and we are offering training and support to this team which will allow us to open the doors and present to the community." Beach goes on to say, "We offer a variety of opportunities, from Front of House to Technical Positions. If you have ever been interested in the performing arts, this is a fantastic chance to learn and be part of an incredible team!"

Anyone interested in finding out more about how they can get involved, is invited to stop by anytime between 3 PM and 7 PM. Staff members will be on hand to answer questions. Light refreshments will be served. Can't make it to the open house? Email Stacey @ volunteer@camroselive.ca to sign up or to ask any questions.
